It's mostly calm as Arizona reopens

Many venture out on 1st day; others stay at home

We sincerely appreciate the opportunity to get our team members back to work and safely serve the public while doing so.

Westroc Hospitality

Cleanliness and sanitation have always been a top priority in the cosmetology and barber industry. Add some extra personal protection and some distance between stations and we are all set to reopen.

Eternity Salon

We anxiously await the return of visitors and we have demanded all our hotels and attractions, and all visitor-serving entities, to prioritize the health of their guests first and foremost.

Visit Mesa

We can safely follow all Center of Disease Control (CDC) guidelines that would be expected, and I am confident in our ability to safely service the community and bring economic prosperity back to Arizona.

Mane Extension Bar

As retailers of essential products, we have been working around the clock to provide for our customers while maintaining their safety and that of our employees.

CHILD ENRICHMENT CENTERS

- As Arizonans return to work, and with schools closed, we've worked to provide childcare resources for families.
- To date:
 - 426 childcare providers have registered as Enrichment Centers in 52 cities across the state;
 - 3,318 families of critical health care and essential public sector workers have qualified for priority child care, and can now access the care that best fits their needs;
 - 2,321 families have qualified for a child care scholarship.
