SAFER AT HOME: QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER BEFORE GOING OUT

- How many people will you interact with?
 - Interacting with more people raises your risk.
 - Being in a group with people who aren't social distancing or wearing cloth face coverings increases your risk.
 - Engaging with new people (e.g., those who don't live with you) also raises your risk.
 - Some people have the virus and don't have any symptoms, and it is not yet known how often people without symptoms can transmit the virus to others.

SAFER AT HOME: QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER BEFORE GOING OUT

- Can you keep 6 feet of space between you and others? Will you be outdoors or indoors?
 - The closer you are to other people who may be infected, the greater your risk of getting sick.
 - Keeping distance from other people is especially important for people who are at higher risk for severe illness, such as older adults and those with underlying medical conditions.
 - Indoor spaces are more risky than outdoor spaces where it might be harder to keep people apart and there's less ventilation.

SAFER AT HOME: QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER BEFORE GOING OUT

- What's the length of time that you will be interacting with people?
 - Spending more time with people who may be infected increases your risk of becoming infected.
 - Spending more time with people increases their risk of becoming infected if there is any chance that you may already be infected.

- Their blood can be collected and the plasma, containing the antibodies can be given to people with severe COVID-19 to boost their ability to fight the virus.
- If you've had COVID-19 and recovered from it, consider donating blood.
